Multiple Interfaces

A host can be connected to several hosts or networks through multiple interfaces

- Some are connected to a single host only (Point-to-Point)
- Others are connected to a entire network (BUS)

Point-to-Point Link

- Only two hosts are connected at each end of the medium e.g. OTN, IRDA, DSL ...
- → Harder for an attacker to intercept messages

